Hey David, that's really frustrating, I'm so sorry this has happened.

And apologies for not getting back to you yesterday. Have you heard more from Jo re the appeal advice/timeline? I'll look into this today and see what steps we can take. One thing we're still very happy to do is to organise a protest for when we know the police are planning on executing the order. You should receive another notice from them like last time.

And regarding your text, it can't hurt to contact Rebecca Levingston to see if she's interested in covering this case. Michael would be very happy to speak with her as well in your support, of course.

Would you be comfortable with us posting about this on Michael's Facebook page? Would be a good way to gather some more support for the protest and show that the community has your back.

Let me know what your reckon. I'll update you with any info I can find that might be helpful.

Cheers,

Steph Moss
