Hello John, thanks for your email.

I have written volumes about the current situation in the last week. It's a bit of a blur, but I can guarantee you that the plans referred to by Housing in your email will not come to pass because this morning I filed a number of forms with QCAT which put a temporary stop to it. This will last for a minimum of 6 weeks, possibly longer.

In this time, I will be continuing to gather evidence and support for a possible appeal. There are numerous possible courses of action for me to take and I will make decisions on the merits of each of these over the next week or two. This includes potential accommodation options, one of which involves the Department's offer you mentioned.

Thanks for reaching out. I will continue to keep you in the loop.
