THE ARIA REPORT

Chartifacts!

SINGLES – It's steady as she goes on the singles chart with the top five of last week all remaining stationary this week. While Jessica Simpson returns for her fourth bash at the top 10 with I Wanna Love You Forever at No.10, the only brand new title in the top 10 belongs to Sash! who debuts with Adelante at No.7, becoming his first Australian top 20 single in the process. His previous best chart position in Australia was No.24 achieved by Stay in March 1998.

No.7 ADELANTE – Sash! This Cologne based German DJ has been making a habit of hitting No.2 on the UK singles chart without (yet) claiming the top prize. This is his fifth single to peak in the runner-up position in the old country following Encore Un Fois, Ecuador, Stay and Mysterious Times. Featuring the vocals of Shannon (who had a minor Australian hit in her own right in 1984 with Let The Music Play), his sixth and biggest Australian chart single is from his forthcoming album Trilenium.

No.56 BREAK STUFF – Limp Bizkit. The Florida based combo of Fred Durst, Sam Rivers, John Otto, Wes Borland and DJ Lethal have been pumping out their aggressive brand of thrash since 1994 but it has only been over the past year that they have achieved mainstream acceptance in Australia. This is the third single to chart from their latest album Significant Other (No.27 this week after reaching No.5 last October).

No.59 PRIVATE EMOTION – Ricky Martin. A musical departure of sorts for the "latin heartthrob" whose previous hits include the salsa influenced The Cup Of Life (No.1 June 1998), Livin' La Vida Loca (No.4 June 1999) and most recently Shake Your Bon Bon (No.27 last Christmas). His sixth chart single is a ballad on which he duets with Swedish singer Meja.

No.80 THE BALLAD OF CHASEY LAIN – Bloodhound Gang. Readers unfamiliar with the work of Chasey Lain may be surprised to learn that she is involved as an actress in the adult movie industry. Those familiar with the work of the debauched, depraved, degenerate Bloodhound Gang (and their current album Hooray For Boobies which reached No.38 last October) will probably not be so surprised... This is the band's fourth Australian chart single since emerging with Fire, Water, Burn (No.13 May 1997) and the follow-up to The Bad Touch which reached No.5 this February.

No.92 BREATHE – Faith Hill. Currently the No.3 song on the Billboard Hot 100, this is the second Australian hit following This Kiss (No.4 March 1999) for 33 year old Audrey Faith Perry. It is the title track of her fourth album which recently hit No.1 in the US and is currently at No.14 on the ARIA Country chart.

No.97 RADIO LOVES THIS – Deborah Conway. It has been almost fifteen years since Deborah first appeared on the Australian charts with the top 5 single Man Overboard. It was the first of a handful of hits she had as the lead singer of Do.Re.Mi before launching into her solo career in the early 1990s. By 1994 she had amassed a total of six chart singles including It's Only The Beginning (No.19 August 1991) and Under My Skin (No.34 December 1991). From her forthcoming album Exquisite Stereo, this single is her first chart appearance since Today I Am A Daisy (No.98 April 1994) and biggest since Alive And Brilliant which hit No.64 in November 1993.

ALBUMS - Up to the mid 1990s, albums that debuted at No.1 had a better than even chance of remaining at the top for at least a couple of weeks. That changed through the latter years of the decade to the extent that, of the 50 albums to debut at the top since the start of 1996, only 10 have remained at the top in their second week. In this context, the fact that Killing Heidi remain at the top for their fourth straight week with Reflector puts them into elite company. In the past six years Crowded House from 1996 with Recurring Dream and U2 with The Best Of U2 in 1998 spent their first four chart weeks at No.1 while only Savage Garden's self titled debut album has done better, spending its first 12 weeks at No.1 in 1997.

The only new top 10 album of the week, moving from No.15 to No.8 is The Man Who by the UK quartet Travis. It is the first Australian hit for the band who will be touring this country in July.

No.66 SINGLES – 1969-1981 – The Carpenters. The famous brother and sister duo Richard and Karen Carpenter enter the charts with a collection of their biggest and best tracks. Their career started back in 1965 as a trio with friend Wes Jacobs and continued through a change to a four piece group Spectrum and ultimately to The Carpenters (they were signed to A&M Records by Herb Alpert) until the untimely death of Karen in 1983 of heart failure, caused by her long battle with the disease Anorexia Nervosa. This 20 track album features all of their top 10 hits and most of their other big ones, including (They Long To Be) Close To You, Please Mr Postman, Top Of The World and Only Yesterday with the only notable exception chartwise being their 1978 top 20 hit Calling Occupants Of Interplanetary Craft.

No.92 THE VIRGIN SUICIDES SOUNDTRACK – Air. This film is based on Jeffrey Eugenide's cult novel, and is directed by Sophia Coppola (daughter of Francis Ford Coppola). After listening to Air's album Moon Safari (No.24 March 1999) non-stop while writing the script, she decided to get JB Dunckel and Nicolas Godin (aka Air) to supply the soundtrack. The album, which lists twelve instrumental tracks and the next single Playground Love, with vocals supplied by Gordon Traxx, was recorded using only a few instruments, organ, bass and drums, "to seek a minimalist, electro-pop sound".
