SINGLES – Unquestionably the most successful musical export from the Scandinavian country of Finland has been the composer Jean Sibelius (1865 – 1957) whose work in the late 19th and early 20th century gained him world reknown and national hero status in his homeland. Now joining the famous composer in the global music spotlight are a pair of modern generation Finns who call themselves Bomfunk MCs. This week their hit Freestyler upstages last week's chart topping debut Spinning Around by Kylie Minogue to give them their first Australian No.1 single. The two new titles in this week's top 10 are both former UK No.1 hits... at No.8 is Toca's Miracle, the April UK chart topper being the result of the combination of two songs... 1997's I Need A Miracle by Coco and Toca Me by Fragma (the latter reaching No.53 in Australia back in January 2000)... and at No.9 is Day & Night by Billie Piper which peaked in the UK in May and is now the teenage singer's second Australian top 10 single following Honey To The Bee (No.6 June 1999).

No.69 NOT THE SAME – Bodyjar. From the forthcoming album How it Works, this is the first Australian top 100 single for the Melbourne four piece of Cameron Baines, Grant Relf, Tom Read and Ross Heatherington. The previous chart highlight for this band who formed in the early 1990s was the top 5 placement of their single Gee And Ai on the ARIA Alternative chart in July 1995.

No.83 EVERYTHING YOU WANT – Vertical Horizon. The title track of an album that was recorded in 1998, this is the first Australian hit for the US East Coast quartet of Keith Kane, Matt Scannell, Sean Hurley and Ed Toth.

No.94 SIMPLE KIND OF LIFE – No Doubt. Described by one scribe as a "symphonic rock ballad", this is the seventh Australian chart single for the Californian quartet fronted by 30 year old Gwen Stefani. It follows the singles New (No.89 June 1999) and Ex-Girlfriend (No.9 April 2000) from their current album Return Of Saturn (No.54 this week after debuting at No.11 in April).

No.99 HONEY – Moby. With his former No.1 album Play sliding back up to No.5 in its 22nd consecutive week in the national top 10, the career of Richard Melville Hall is going from strength to strength. This is the third Australian top100 single from the album which launched the New Yorker from the techno fringe into mainstream stardom following Run On (No.93 May 1999) and Why Does My Heart Feel So Bad? (No.33 January 2000).

ALBUMS - Matchbox Twenty's current album Mad Season... may only be at a mere platinum level of accreditation, but this week it achieves a feat that its nine times platinum predecessor Yourself Or Someone Like You could not... It has strung together four consecutive weeks in the No.1 position! The six weeks at No.1 of Yourself... comprised a fortnight in May 1998 followed by three weeks in July / August and then a final week in September 1998. Two albums reach the top 10 for the first time this week and both have a story to tell... At No.10 is the former US No.1 album Marshall Mathers LP by Eminem. It marks a significant Australian chart turnaround for the white Detroit rapper whose debut release Slim Shady only reached No.73 here (in April 1999). The other newcomer, Black The Sun by Sydney artist Alex Lloyd is a true sleeper. Released over a year ago, the album first charted last July and has spent 35 weeks in the top 100 since, but it didn't reach the top 20 until four weeks ago, climbing from No.14 to No.9 for its first appearance in the top 10 this week.

No.11 CAFÉ DEL MAR 7 – Various. This collection of downtempo "chillout" tracks is the seventh in a series of recordings named after a bar in the village of San Antonio on the Mediterranean resort island of Ibiza. Put together by a guy called Bruno, the thirteen tracks include contributions from Moby (Whispering Wind), Lux (Northern Lights) and Bush (Letting The Cables Sleep).

No.29 GONE IN 60 SECONDS – Soundtrack. Featuring fourteen tracks by, among others, The Cult, Ice Cube, The Chemical Brothers, Moby and Citizen King (with a remix of their No.86 hit from last August – Better Days (And The Bottom Drops Out)), this CD accompanies the crash and burn grand theft auto big screen extravaganza starring Nicolas Cage, Angelina Jolie and Robert Duvall.

No.69 QUALITY CONTROL – Jurassic 5. Contrary to the inference of their name, Jurassic 5 are a group of six hip-hoppers from Los Angeles. This is the first Australian chart entry for the crew comprising deckmasters DJ Nu-Mark and Cut Chemist providing the beat foundation for MCs Akil, Chali 2NA, Marc 7 and Zaakir.

No.77 AMEN (SO BE IT) – Paddy Casey. Rave reviews and numerous awards (including Best Album at the Irish World Awards) have accompanied this 24 year old Irish singer / songwriter since the release of this, his debut album. Paddy was recently in Australia doing the promotional rounds promoting the album.

THE AUSTRALIAN ONLINE MUSIC STORE

Friday-August 18 Topics

THE EMPOWERED & ENABLED ARTIST—It all starts with the artist and the song. That's where this conference begins with a panel of some of Australia's top musicians, songwriters, composers, performers and players. And it's a whole new world of empowerment that the Internet gives for creators to extend their reach globally. From simple sites that give information and enhance personality, to giving away or selling music online and even to chatting or performing by webcast technology provides as many solutions as it poses challenges. Plus, there's a whole new way of doing business. Our artists reveal their strategies, successes, dramas, dealmaking, experiences & exhilaration at breaking through the old ways of career pursuit as well as the problems and debacles of dealing with the new ways. Speakers: McCormack & more top artists TBA closer to the date as availabilities & touring permit

REAL MUSIC IN A SEA OF SHIT—Getting Noticed Online & Offline Via Marketing & Promotion for Artists & E-Entrepreneurs. Any band or business can buy or build a website. But it's a crowded landscape online for music and information. The secrets to attracting traffic, making eyeballs sticky and ears hungry as well as selling over the Net are revealed. It's no longer a text-based medium and a lot of opportunities for enhancing online presences present themselves continuously. Techniques include alliances, partnerships, links, seeding search engines & posting on newsgroups. By combining branding, online outreach, offline advertising and publicity, promotion in the real world, email evangelism you can realise your dot.com dreams with this panels' tips. Speakers: Doidge, Elford, Furhagen, Higgins, King, Sinclair, Wise & More TBA

SONGS IN A STREAM TO RIVERS OF DOWNLOADS—New technologies give audio & video creators the abilities to stream their works through a variety of media players as well as offer their creations for free or secure digital downloads. This session looks at the ways in which intellectual property can be made available, where the convergence between computer and TV set is taking us as well as what the future is for entertainment media on demand direct to the consumer. It will also deal with the challenge of putting music and other media online for instant and infinite duplication without remuneration versus the secure formats of delivery that yield payment in either money or valuable consumer contacts and demographic information. Speakers: Arrigo, Cohen, Gilbey, Gottehrer, King, Mahony, Oren, Rosenthal & More TBA

DIGITAL RIGHTS & DOING DEALS DOT.COM STYLE—Just like the choice of online 'tap water'—giving away free music or intellectual property—versus secure and branded 'bottled water'—whereby you can deliver secure, timed, limited or other valued content to consumers—the management of digital rights and dealmaking is a minefield for the unwary and a potential bonanza for those who wisely consider the future. This panel is composed of legal minds, those who offer DRM (digital rights management) and those who are experienced in the transactions that are crucial to creating a continual stream of income from micro-monetising to major streams of annual returns. Recording rights, publishing and songwriting rights, performance rights and the ownership of sites, images, content and brands will be dissected and discussed. Predators and pirates will be identified. The right ways to do business in the next decade will be revealed. Speakers: Arrigo, Brownlow, Fitz-Alan, Gilbey, Mallett, Speck, Thompson, Williams

Saturday-August 19 Topics

BRICKS VS CLICKS; RETAIL VS ETAIL; B2C VS B2B—We've got the top online CD etailers and download sellers as well as representatives from the 'bricks and mortar' traditional retail stores that are heading to 'bricks and clicks' as sales through the Internet of hard carriers (CD, DVD, VHS, MiniDisc and vinyl) transitions to a mix of old formats and digital delivery. 'Shipping Wine Without The Bottles' is not only a challenge to music and video retailers but also a strategy of record companies and entertainment software distributors who appear to be planning to disintermediate the traditional store. This panel is where the fireworks begin on Day 2 as issues of exclusivity, tax on local sales versus free ride savings of overseas etailers, sourcing repertoire locally or from foreign distributors and the vexing issue of price are debated. We'll also look at the opportunities for Australian artists to sell via etailing here and overseas. Speakers: Darby, Doidge, Elford, Outch, Schillaci, Sinclair

YOUR SITE SUCKS! BUILDING THE PERFECT BEAST—Design, accessibility, speed, overall performance and the tricks of making websites produce results are discussed by this panel of experts. We'll not only look at sites that work well, we'll point out the problems that prevent traffic and make a major investment in website design or development a money pit online. It's not a science panel but a balance of content and context leading to commerce that will be discussed. It's not about art, it's about seduction—luring people to your site and then keeping them there and having them return continuously. We'll also delve into how to extract information from your users, transforming them into fans and setting up programs to get them to draw more traffic and sales to your website. Create your own communities and find your online niche market... then monopolise it. Speakers: Doidge, Furhagen, Higgins, Marino, Simmons, Wise, Wisniewski & More TBA

I'M WITH THE BANDWIDTH—Wired & Wireless Ways to Digitally Deliver on Demand. Get ready for the bonanza of bandwidth that will come with new ways to use phone wires, new cable modem systems, satellite and other wireless delivery models that will give consumers at home music, movies, gaming and interactive media on demand. And for those on the move, the potential of using mobile phones as the new music and information delivery appliance looms large in the next few years. This panel combines telco pros and entertainment executives to discuss whether the consumer is ready to pay for the privilege of delivery without hard carriers or whether they'll just be happy to upgrade to a DVD for their movies and music. Speakers: Alexander, Cameron, Gilbey, Peters, Platt & More TBA

WEBWAVES—Internet Radio & Webcasting; Stuttering Media or The Start of Broadcasting's Future? The big money this year is going into developing audio and visual sites with the view that event Webcasting and Internet Radio are laying down the foundations to tomorrow's new mainstream media. Broadband delivery promises to deliver the pipeline for a galaxy of seamless online radio and smooth webcasts or online video, but are consumers ready for it and are the current broadcast license holders going to dominate the webwaves with the same drive? Can the music industry support online radio and are promoters going to cannibalise their audiences by webcasting in better quality than the live audience? It's a delicate balance and our panel of experienced operators will show the way. Speakers: Cameron, Chapman, Muggeridge, Wisniewski & More TBA
